MULTI-BANK SECURITIES, INC. STAFF DISTRIBUTES SCHOOL SUPPLIES TO MILITARY FAMILIES IN NEED

MIAMI, Aug. 18, 2017 – Employees from Multi-Bank Securities, Inc. (MBS), a Veteran-Owned Business Enterprise (VBE), volunteered with Operation Homefront this weekend to support its annual Back-to-School Brigade®.

Volunteers handed out more than 100 backpacks and necessary school supplies to military children during an Aug. 12 distribution event at the Williams U.S. Army Reserve in Miami. The Firm also held a school supply drive to collect donations from its staff and clients around the country.

“It is an honor to have this opportunity to give back to the service members and military families who sacrifice so much for our freedoms,” said Jim Powell, senior vice president, who volunteered at the event. “This cause is very close to our hearts as a veteran-owned business, and we are excited to lend our support each year.”

MBS is a proud sponsor of the Back-to-School Brigade®, Operation Homefront’s annual nationwide school supply collection campaign that puts donated school supplies directly into the hands of military families. The program has delivered more than 265,000 backpacks since 2008.

As a veteran-owned business, MBS actively looks to support military-focused charities. The Firm is proud to count numerous former service members among its ranks, including CEO and founder David T. Maccagnone, a Vietnam veteran and Purple Heart recipient.

“Our back-to-school event in Miami provided backpacks to 100 children on Saturday and we will be serving about 100 more with backpacks in the Miami area,” said Operation Homefront Director of Volunteers Charlotte Merriam. “We couldn’t do the work we do without sponsors and volunteers like those from Multi-Bank Securities that have been involved with the event for two years now. Thank you for helping us provide backpacks to the children of military families and veterans in Miami.”
